OBJECTIVES FOR THE WEEK:

This week's task is about finding an ideas buddy. Someone you can bounce your ideas off. Someone who can give you an honest assessment. It is really important that this is a two way relationship. You need to feedback honestly to each other and you should help them out as well. No relationship lasts if it is entirely one sided.

Get them to rate your ideas and to add. Listen to their comments, they might add things you really like and be honest enough to yourself to drop the bad ideas and add the good.
